HAND THERAPIST

Elizabeth Flewelling, MS, OTR/L

VISION

“As a Hand Therapist, I work closely with patients to help them achieve their functional goals using evidence-based treatment. I focus on long-term outcomes that support lasting recovery and improved daily function.”

EDUCATION

- Master of Science, Occupational Therapy University of Scranton

POPULATIONS TREATED

Elizabeth’s special areas of interest include fractures and wound care. Elizabeth especially enjoys fabricating orthoses to help patients better participate in their meaningful activities while protecting an injury.
